U.S. on Mideast—Stop Guns, Start Talks

THESE PHANTOMS ATTACKING JORDAN IN EARLIER ACTION ARE MORE OF WHAT ISRAEL WANTS. (UPI CABLEPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers announced today the United States has submitted a new peace proposal in the Middle East to encourage the Arabs and Israelis "to stop shooting and start talking" under the auspices of the United Nations.

Rogers told a news conference that the objective of the American plan was "to encourage the parties to move towards a just and lasting peace which takes fully into account the legitimate aspirations and concerns of all governments and peoples of the area."

The secretary said he declined in a statement opening the news conference to disclose any details of the plan.

He also declined to "discuss publicly military assistance for Israel" on grounds that to do so might jeopardize the acceptance of the new U.S. peace plan.

Rogers' failure to announce the U.S. decision on Israel's request for 125 more warplanes was certain to disturb the Israelis. They have argued that an announcement that more planes would be supplied might have a psychological effect in preventing a further Soviet military buildup in Egypt.

Although Rogers declined to give details of the U.S. peace plan, it was understood that it calls for an Arab-Israeli cease-fire of at least three months and the start of negotiations on the basis of following pledges involving Israel, Egypt and Jordan:

Willingness to carry out all provisions of a 1967 U.N. Security Council resolution laying down guidelines for a settlement.

A commitment by Egypt and Jordan to the principle of keeping the peace with Israel and acknowledging Israel's right to a secure existence within specified borders.

An Israeli commitment, in return, to the principle of withdrawal from Arab territories it occupied since the Six-Day War of June, 1967.

Those conditions constitute the first phase of the U.S. plan. The second phase, Arab sources said, involves establishment of a 12-mile-wide demilitarized zone along the Suez Canal line and stationing there of U.N. forces to make certain the cease-fire was maintained.

The U.S. proposal was submitted directly to Israel and the Arab states, bypassing Big Four talks at the United Nations as well as Soviet-American discussions in Washington. However, the United States informed Russia, Britain and France in full detail of the proposal it submitted.

Details of the U.S. proposal began circulating in Mideast capitals well ahead of Rogers' formal announcement, with initial reaction generally fairly restrained.

Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir interpreted the plan as meaning Israel would not be required to pull out of occupied Arab territories "without peace that guarantees the inviolability of our frontiers."

Meanwhile, on the war front, Israeli warplanes raided two Syrian army camps on the outskirts of Damascus 40 miles northwest of the Golan Heights cease-fire line today and hit a third camp near as Suwayda, close to the Israeli border.

Syrian warplanes scrambled into the air and anti-aircraft guns opened up on the attackers near the Syrian capital. Citizens ran for shelter while warning sirens wailed over Damascus rooftops at noon.

Radio Damascus interrupted its regular programs at 3:10 p.m. and announced the shooting down of a U.S.-built Phantom jet fighter-bomber of the Israeli air force.

Israel said all its aircraft returned safely from the raids, which it said were in retaliation for "Syrian aggression along the cease-fire line Wednesday and the Syrian attacks on Israeli forces and settlements in the Golan Heights."

The reference was to a two-hour battle between Israeli and Syrian tanks Wednesday night that Syria called the bloodiest clash between the two countries since the 1967 Middle East War.

Syria said 175 Israelis were killed or wounded in Wednesday's fighting. Israel said it suffered only eight wounded, one of whom later died.

Five Days Before U.S. Withdrawal

5,000 S. Viet Troops Open New Front

SAIGON (UPI)—A 5,000-man South Vietnamese armored infantry column crossed the border into Cambodia today, opening a new front five days before the scheduled withdrawal of American troops.

U.S. field commanders said increasing Communist resistance in Cambodia had eliminated the possibility of destroying all Viet Cong border sanctuaries and supply depots before the June 30 withdrawal deadline President Nixon has set for U.S. troops.

Allied military spokesmen said the South Vietnamese column was pushing into Northeastern Cambodia from the Central Highlands area west of Pleiku 170 miles northeast of Saigon, an area where military sources have reported a buildup of Communist strength. American warplanes have been flying daily missions against Communist supply trails and other targets in the same general area.

The thrust into Cambodia was the 15th by South Vietnamese troops since late April, and military sources said it increased the number of South Vietnamese troops there to about 39,000. Sources said about 9,000 American troops are in Cambodia, all of whom are to be pulled out by June 30.

In Cambodia, military spokesmen said daylong bombing and napalm attacks by American Phantom jets have broken a Communist siege of Kompong Thom, a provincial capital and highway crossroads 80 miles north of Phnom Penh.

Around the Cambodian capital itself, they said, other air strikes and ground fighting have weakened the Communist position closest to Phnom Penh—at Prek Tameak, 15 miles to the northeast. They said 10 Communist units, including a North Vietnamese army colonel, had been killed by Cambodian troops and another 100 reported killed by air strikes. Elsewhere in Cambodia, there was but light and sporadic fighting reported.

An Air Force A37 Dragonfly jet fighter-bomber crashed for unknown reasons in northeastern Cambodia, killing the pilot, spokesmen said, and a transport helicopter was shot down over the Fishhook region but its crewmen escaped injury.

One crewman was wounded in the three helicopters downed over South Vietnam, spokesmen said.

Photographer Kent Potter of UPI, who flew into Kompong Thom with an airlift of Cambodian troops, reported American jets had been bombing Communist positions around the provincial capital for the past three days and that two Phantoms had been kept in the air throughout the day Wednesday in bombing, napalm and strafing raids.

The highway south from Kompong Thom to Phnom Penh remained closed, because Communists held several positions along it. Military spokesmen said the other five highways from Phnom Penh to other provincial capitals all were open today.

Communist forces attacked a U.S. air base in South Vietnam Wednesday night, wounding five Americans and causing some damage before being driven off by helicopter gunships from the base. The U.S. Command said Communist casualties were unknown in the attack on the 164th Combat Aviation Group's base 115 miles southwest of Saigon.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, the Command said, Communists fired 25 mortar rounds into a 1st Air Cavalry Division support base for the Cambodian operation. The barrage on the division's 3rd Brigade base, 62 miles north of Saigon at Quan Loi, caused some damage but no casualties, spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese troops fighting in the Mekong Delta 148 miles southwest of Saigon killed 33 Communists in fighting Wednesday without suffering casualties, spokesmen said.

In the Fishhook sector of Cambodia, South Vietnamese troops fought several skirmishes with Communist troops and seized a small cache of arms. There were no clashes reported involving American troops in Cambodia.

At Paris, North Vietnam said today that, despite President Nixon's public optimism, the United States has suffered major defeats during the past months in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The charge by the North Vietnamese chief delegate to the stalemated Paris peace talks came at the 72nd session, dominated by charges about the Indochinese fighting and no discussion about peace terms for Vietnam.

Dems Hit Cambodia Partisanship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts by Nixon administration backers to make the current Senate debate on Cambodia the year's major discussion of U.S. Southeast Asia policy have stirred angry charges from Democrats.

Republicans made clear Wednesday they would like to see all antiwar amendments—whether intended for this bill or others—disposed of during the current debate on the military sales bill, now in its seventh week.

It is time, assistant Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin told the Senate, to "clean up these matters and get on to other issues."

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., charged that Republicans would be guilty of "crude and cynical partisanship" if they try to bring up his amendment to halt U.S. activities in Indochina without his approval.

He says he wants it considered as an amendment to military procurement legislation to be considered later and will attempt to block any effort to consider it now.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., who had mentioned the possibility of such a move, said it would be neither cynical nor crude.

Earlier, three Democratic senators—J.W. Fulbright of Arkansas, John C. Stennis of Mississippi and Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina—assailed Republican Sen. Robert J. Dole's successful move to have an amendment repealing the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution added to the military sales bill.

Fulbright, who said he favored repeal by the concurrent resolution approved by his Foreign Relations Committee and scheduled for later action, voted against Dole's amendment "to preserve the integrity of the procedure."

But it carried by a vote of 81 to 10. Although the Johnson administration cited the Tonkin resolution in dispatching 500,000 troops to Vietnam, the Nixon administration says it is obsolete and irrelevant.

Hollings charged the Nixon administration's reaction to the entire Cambodia debate has been marked by "overkill, to place a severe burden on countries such as Turkey and South Korea."

Commander-in-Chief can do whatever he wishes."

After approving Dole's amendment, the Senate voted 52 to 36 to reject an amendment by Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, to loosen a restriction that would require recipients of military aid and surplus weapons to put up 50 per cent of the cost. The Iowa Republican said this would place a severe burden on countries such as Turkey and South Korea.

A Dog Has His Day at KHS Commencement

Attentively awaiting his diploma, a dog joins Kingston High School graduates at ceremonies Wednesday night in Dietz Stadium. Even without the addition of the canine member the Class of 1970 stands as the largest ever graduated from KHS. A record 681 students successfully terminated their four years in secondary education. Today is Commencement Day and Dance at the Granit Hotel but admission is by ticket only and the dog may have to settle for just the commencement exercises. Story on Page 4. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Two Deaths in Greene Apparent Murder-Suicide

By WALTER S. CLARK

CATSKILL

A 21-year-old barmaid, waitress and a 33-year-old Brooklyn man, both natives of Hungary, were shot to death Wednesday in an apartment above a Greene County restaurant in what State Police officials termed an apparent murder-suicide.

Authorities said the fatal shootings apparently occurred after the two victims engaged in a heated argument because the man, employed at the restaurant as a cook, failed to perform the work he was assigned.

Meanwhile, Orange County authorities continued investigation of a strangulation murder of a 61-year-old woman which was uncovered last week in a Highland Falls apartment.

The dead in the Greene County homicide case were identified by troopers at Leeds as Miss Eva Ilona Szeman, who was employed at the Devil's Kitchen Restaurant (Budapest Casino) operated by her uncle, Joseph Berezky at Platt Cove in the Town of Hunter, and Louis Berezky of 1739 Broadway, Brooklyn.

The victim of the Orange County murder was identified by State Police as Mrs. Martha West of Highland Falls.

Authorities said today they had arrested a suspect identified as Leon Evans, 24, of 14 Schneider Avenue, Highland Falls, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of the woman.

After an investigation of the Greene County homicide case which was directed by Major John Monahan, commander of Troop F of the State Police, investigators said verdicts of murder and suicide were issued by Coroner Frederick Decker of Windham, who pronounced Miss Szeman and Berezky dead at the scene. The shooting occurred before noon yesterday.

Police said Berezky apparently shot himself in the head with the same 8 millimeter rifle that he allegedly used to take the life of the waitress.

According to authorities, Miss Szeman apparently argued with her alleged killer, who reportedly was unable to report for work yesterday morning in the restaurant. The argument and shooting occurred in the apartment above the restaurant. Berezky allegedly grabbed an 8 mm Mauser rifle during the argument and shoved the barrel into the woman's mouth and pulled the trigger.

Investigators were told that Stefan Czer-Palkovics, who lives in an apartment above the restaurant, said he heard a shot and hurried to the bottom of the stairs leading to the living quarters where the waitress and cook had argued.

Czer-Palkovics said Berezky came out on the stair landing, pointed the rifle at him and said he had shot Miss Szeman. Berezky then told Czer-Palkovics to leave or he would shoot him.

Czer-Palkovics told investigators later that he ran to a nearby summer camp and called State Police at the Leeds station. Major Monahan was notified in Middletown and he went to the scene with BCI Lt. C. G. Griffin and Investigators Richard Ryan and James Swanker.

The bodies were removed to the Greene County Memorial Hospital where autopsies were to be performed.

3 Town Board Appointments Due Tonight

SAUGERTIES At least three appointments are expected to be made at a special executive session of Saugerties Town Board tonight. The Freeman has learned.

The appointment of a town building inspector recommended by the Town Planning Board to implement State Building Code regulations approved by the Town Board some time ago is expected to be made. This would be in preparation for the adoption of a Building Code Ordinance now under study which is the enabling legislation for enforcing the State Building Code.

Walter I. Johnson, an employee of Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company is expected to be named. Johnson submitted an application for the position at a recent Town Board meeting.

Charles Ascarino, Glasco, who is employed at the IBM Laboratory, is expected to be named superintendent of Glasco Water Department to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Fred Francello. Ascarino, a veteran of four years in the Navy during the Korean conflict, has been attending the Water Treatment Plant Operator's School in preparation for this assignment.

Francello, who was the clerk of the works in 1951 when the Glasco Water System was installed and later became superintendent could not be reached for comment. However, his letter of resignation noted that he would stay on at no pay to assist who ever was appointed during the transitional period.

Most prominently mentioned as assistant to Ascarino is Salvatore Misasi of Barclay Heights.

Johnson, prior to joining the banking institution was associated with the contracting firm of Leon Johnson and Sons, which included his brother, Elton and his father, Leon, now deceased.

KINGSTON Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. (R-N.Y.) today joined Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.) and a number of other House members in introducing legislation laying down rules respecting military hostilities undertaken by the United States in the absence of a declaration of war.

The bill co-sponsored by Congressman Fish is a companion bill to S3964 introduced last week in the Senate by Republican Senators Robert J. Dole of Kansas and Jacob K. Javits of New York.

According to Fish the legislation is aimed at clearing up what is now a rather vague relationship between the executive branch of government and the Congress regarding undeclared hostilities. If enacted it would lay down long range guidelines for both branches of government," Congressman Fish said.

Senior Citizens Housing

SAUGERTIES Interest and rent subsidies totaling $56,492 per year were approved this week by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for the proposed 61-unit senior citizens housing project in Saugerties.

Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. (R-28th District) who announced the subsidy grant said the interest subsidy will total $48,568 and the rent subsidy will be $7,924.

A new corporation being formed to manage the $800,000 senior citizen housing complex, under the plan, will pay 1 per cent of the interest and the subsidy will provide the remaining 7½ per cent. The $92.33 apartment, the remaining $42.33 will be subsidized under the program. A federal formula will be set up to determine the amount of rent a senior citizen is able to pay according to his or her income. In this way, the senior citizen will only pay rent in the amount he can financially afford and the remainder will be made up by the federal government agency grant.

The project last week received the approval and commendation of the Hudson River Valley Commission, which found "no unreasonable impairment" in the project which is planned for the Hudson River corridor under its jurisdiction.

Record 681 KHS Graduates Hear Rep. Fish

KINGSTON — Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. (R-28th District) addressed a record Kingston High School graduating class of 681 Wednesday, at Dietz Stadium.

Top student in the class was Patricia Franz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franz of 13 North Wilbur Avenue, Kingston. The salutatorian address was given by Douglas Jones, son of

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Jones of 115 Henry Street, Kingston. The following excerpts are from Congressman Fish's commencement address: "If I understand my role correctly it is traditional for a commencement speaker to use this occasion in one last attempt to impart a bit of wisdom to the graduating class. I find today a touch of irony in that tradition. For as I look around at what is happening on our campuses — in the Congress — on the battlefields of Southeast Asia... at the condition of our urban slums — what is happening to the air we breathe and the water we drink — when I ponder our attitudes toward one another, and the increasing bitterness in public discourse, it is clear to me that I and many others of my generation are not very well equipped to give advice to help you find your way. For a time at least we seem to have lost our way. The Congressman spoke of the "strident voices on the left and the right" and the inability or unwillingness of the moderate center to act as a buffer between the two extremes. "Men of the center are increasingly silent, disquieted, troubled and uncertain," he said.

"What I fear most for our country, which I love, is that some of your generation will opt for acquiescence to the sequel of violence and revolution which surely will be followed by repression. The resulting damage to our spirit, to our free institutions, could materially alter our society — certainly for our lifetime."

Fish continued: "Political representation, social problems, racism and pollution can only be dealt with by changing the way people think and feel and act. Here coercion is of limited value. It will take more than criticism from the sidelines. It means staying around for the hard decisions."

In conclusion, Fish said, "You proud parents have an awareness uniquely yours today — an awareness that those in the graduating class are not students — but they are your sons and daughters. "We ask them to go forth from here to work and realize the American dream. We owe it to them as we go forth to retain this awareness. That with our peer group we urge an end to generalizing about young people. That we urge our generation to listen and try to understand this generation — but above all, to listen."

Police Chief Appointed in New Paltz

NEW PALTZ — The appointment of James W. Walrath as Chief of Police for the Village of New Paltz has been announced by New Paltz Mayor Henry W. DuBois. Retired January 1 after 34 years as a police officer for the upstate village of Mohawk, the last 15 years as Chief of Police, Walrath decided that six months of inactivity was more than enough for him, and he was sworn in on Monday.

In addition to his long period of service in law enforcement, the 59-year-old police officer served three years in the U. S.

Air Force during World War II as an Investigator, and he also spent one year in the Regular Army in the Commandant of Cadets office at West Point. He also has had a wide variety of experiences, including that of an assistant funeral director and an employee of the Remington Arms Company.

Chief Walrath is a member of the New York State Chiefs of Police Association and the New York State PBA. He is affiliated with the American Legion Post of Mohawk and the Mohawk Valley Masonic Lodge. He is married, and his wife and one of their three sons make their home in Mohawk.

In commenting on the appointment of Chief Walrath, L. E. Heinze, chairman of the Village Police Committee, explained that the trustees began looking for a new chief several weeks ago when it was finally determined by the New York State Civil Service Commission that it would be necessary to terminate the services of Dominick Pape as acting chief for the village.

"Chief Walrath was recommended to the Trustees by the New York State Chief of Police Association," Heinze said, "and after the board interviewed him and we received his excellent letters of recommendation, I was pleased that the other trustees approved my motion to appoint him for the position."

Heinze further pointed out that these major decisions regarding the Police Department are being made by the entire Village Board of Trustees, rather than one person or a committee. "I want to make it clear that there isn't just one police commissioner, but rather the whole Village Board, in reality, serves as a Police Commission," Heinze emphasized, "and any policy making is done by the total board." Heinze indicated that he was also indebted to the former Village Trustees Harold Phillips and William George for being farsighted when they prepared this year's police budget, making it possible to now add a sixth man to the force and to appoint the new chief.

Two Marlboro Children Will Get Transportation

By JON POWERS

MARLBORO — After heated debate, the Marlboro School Board voted to provide funds for two district school children who are required to attend nursing classes at Newburgh, as part of a program sponsored by the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

At the annual school board meeting two weeks ago, the public voted by a margin of 47-43 to deny the children transportation costs, fearing that an unwanted precedent might be set.

The original cost of the transportation was estimated at $70 for the two students. They were initially required to attend nursing school in Goshen for four weeks during the summer. An arrangement, however, was made with Newburgh Free Academy whereby the students could earn credit for less money and travel fewer miles per day. The estimated cost for attendance at Newburgh is $200.

The controversy first arose when the parents of the two students appeared before the board and charged that they were never notified that their children had to attend summer school in conjunction with the BOCES program. They contended that it would be an inconvenience to them to provide transportation for their children, especially on such short notice.

The school board admitted that it was "unclear" whether or not the parents had, indeed, been informed of their requirements and passed the resolution for fund provision by a 5-0 margin.

In other business, the board announced that School board elections for the two new openings on the board will be held Aug. 4. At the annual meeting, it was voted to increase the size of the school board from five to seven members.

At the outset of the meeting, the board once again turned down a request by District Treasurer Thomas Polizzi that he be reimbursed for travel expenses to New York City to sign school bonds. The request for reimbursement was debated prior to the trip with the school board maintaining that it was a part of the treasurer's duties. Polizzi contended that his travel expenses were extra but his request was denied by a vote of 3-2.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:35. Afterwards, board members discussed the high cost of the BOCES program in Ulster County. They were particularly concerned about the transportation costs that each district must pay in their entirety.

Ottinger Frets About Spending Race With Charlie

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) —Rep. the November election contest. Richard L. Ottinger, whose million dollar campaign was the main issue in his successful race for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, says he doesn't believe he can "keep up" with the spending pace Sen. Charles E. Goodell will set in the day after he won the four-way Democratic Senate primary. "Despite what my opponents said in the primary, my resources are dwarfed by those of Governor Rockefeller and the national campaign chest for Republican senators," Ottinger said in an Albany appearance. "I will engage in a personal campaign against Senator Goodell based on his record as a senator," Ottinger said. "There is a tremendous credibility gap based on his record as a senator." Ottinger said. "Goodell voted against tax reform, against rat control programs. He is not the kind of liberal he would like people to believe he is," Ottinger said. "In addition, Goodell says he's not going to get involved in state issues, he said he's going to leave them to Governor Rockefeller," Ottinger said. "I think it's a senator's duty to get involved, to criticize state programs such as the complete failure of the governor's narcotics programs and this trans-

Goldberg Opens With A Tie for Governor

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Goldberg, winner of the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Tuesday's primary, has begun his campaign to unseat Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller by tying the Republican incumbent to the Nixon administration.

He said at a news conference Wednesday that Rockefeller is "a part-time governor linked up with the national administration" and "a formidable opponent with tremendous patronage."

"I don't think the people will want to vote for a governor who has linked himself with Nixon and Agnew," he said. "The issues at stake are peace abroad and peace at home. New York State is itself in a state of disrepair. The state deserves better."

Later, Goldberg, a former ambassador, labor secretary and Supreme Court Justice, made two handshaking tours in mid-Manhattan.

On another front, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, defeated in the primary by Assemblyman Charles Rangel in Harlem's 18th Congressional District by 203 votes, called for a recount.

City Elections Commissioner Maurice O'Rourke said an official canvass would be made by the weekend.

1 Dead, 10 Injured In Texas Tornado

By United Press International
A tornado devastated a trailer park and killed a 9-day-old boy near Bishop, Tex., Wednesday as violent storms swept across the Southern Plains to the Lower Great Lakes.

Ten persons were injured by the Bishop tornado and all trailers were "totally demolished," officials said. The youth, at first feared to have been swept away by flash floods, was found in a pool of water, a dozen yards from his trailer home.

A relative said he saw the infant sucked out of his crib and "into the darkness" by the twister.

Tornadoes also were reported near Conway and Russellville, both in Arkansas, and near Solsberry, Ind. No injuries were reported and damage was considered minor, authorities said.

A golfer was killed by lightning near Dearborn, Mich., Wednesday while returning with his wife to the clubhouse during a thundershower. Several storms hit the Detroit area Wednesday, flooding streets and downing power lines and trees. A suburban Grosse Pointe Park woman was hurt by a falling tree limb.

Hail accompanied some of the thundershowers. Belleville, Ill., had one-quarter inch hail driven by winds up to 40 miles an hour, and Joplin, Mo., was pelted by one-half inch hail.

The weather bureau said unofficial reports indicated Jasper, Mo., had 4 1/2 inches of rain in one hour. Rain of more than one inch was reported at Joplin, Belleville, and Cleveland, Ohio.

A few thunderstorms scattered over the Northern Rockies early today, but fair skies predominated in most of the rest of the nation. Widely scattered showers were expected in the South and along the Atlantic coastal region today.

Opposes 'Court Drama'

Manson—Just to Sit Mute

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Say defense but to sit mute in the courtroom. Daye Shinn, lawyer for Susan Atkins, said the young woman also had instructed him to accept the 12 jurors without interrogation as the "Manson Family" attempted to put up a unified defense.

The other two girls, Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Houten, also instructed their lawyers to cease questioning jurors but they refused.

Paul Fitzgerald, representing Miss Krenwinkel, said he felt it was his duty to try to get the fairest possible jury but he said he understood the opinion of his client who stood up in court Wednesday and tried unsuccessfully to fire him.

"It is something of a martyr complex," Fitzgerald told newsmen. "She feels she already has been tried and convicted and sentenced to death in the news media."

"She and the others want to deny the establishment of the satisfaction of putting on a court drama. Actually I can understand her feeling."

Nine solid citizens had passed the first hurdle in jury selection but most, if not all, were expected to be dismissed as the trial progresses. Among them were a photographer, a mailman, a chemical technician, a retired secretary, a TV repairman, a former drama critic and a man who paints the dividing lines on highways.

Jack Anderson Says

The Young and Problems

WASHINGTON — America's questing youth, fiercely idealistic, impatient for change, have been unleashed for the summer.

They are the most alert, most aware, most aroused generation in our history. But many are cop-outs, living in a psychedelic dreamworld, doing their own thing, taking drugs to escape reality.

Some seem to believe we can end war with millennial thinking, eliminate social problems with talk of love, overcome injustice with catchwords and clichés. Others have lost faith that social ills can be corrected without a structural change in our system. They seek to tear down our society without a clear idea of how to rebuild it.

The young need to understand, first, that there are no simple solutions. Ahead lie Himalayan problems — rugged inclines to climb, no easy slopes to coast down. The view from the bottom of the mountain may be discouraging. The Pikes Peak problems may seem too staggering for any individual to tackle. But great mountains are climbed a step at a time, and great events are produced from small acts.

The young who believe in the future, who aren't yet ready to resign from the human race, should take the initiative. Let me make a few modest suggestions:

1. Stir the starry-eyed from their pseudo-romantic dreams; rouse them to their feet; inspire them to substitute deeds for dreams. Invite the militants down from their soapboxes; challenge them to exchange their rhetoric for practical solutions.

2. Fill your summer with constructive, not destructive activity. If you can find no great cause, settle for a small cause. In Salt Lake City, white Mormon teenagers mowed lawns, washed cars, sold baked goods, cleaned garages and did yard work to raise more than $35,000 to help build a Negro church. You can do as much. Organize a project of your own; roll up your sleeves; pitch in and do something worthwhile. Then write me about your project; tell me what you accomplished. Your experience may stimulate others.

3. All too often, Congress had made crucial decisions affecting the lives of millions of young persons with little regard for their views. Congress would never pass farm legislation without consulting the farmers, would never take up oil issues without checking with the oil industry, would never consider a banking bill without inviting the bankers to testify. The special interests make their influence felt through the political processes. You can do the same. Let your Congressman know how you feel about the issues and back up your stand by campaigning for or against him. You can be even more effective by organizing a youth lobby on Capitol Hill.

There's evidence Soviet price tag on reform, freedom, democracy. America's questing youth cannot expect these blessings without paying the price.

Vietnam Hope

A secret intelligence analysis suggests that the Kremlin may now be applying new pressure upon Hanoi to settle the Vietnam war. The Soviet motive is not to help the U.S. but to block the expansion of Red China's influence in Southeast Asia.

There's evidence Soviet leaders concluded some time in mid-May, according to the analysis, that President Nixon was deadly serious about pulling out of Vietnam. Without the U.S. to checkmate the Chinese, they could wind up dominating Southeast Asia.

The Chinese, for example, have already taken over Prince Sihanouk's government-in-exile, which is seeking to "liberate" Cambodia, communist style. Significantly, the Kremlin has held off recognizing Sihanouk's "liberation" movement.

The intelligence analysis suggests that Soviet leaders are disturbed over what will happen in Southeast Asia after the American departure. Too swift a U.S. withdrawal might invite the Chinese to move into the vacuum.

As a result, the Soviets reportedly have brought intense new pressure upon Hanoi to accept a gradual U.S. pullout and to agree upon peace terms that will keep the status quo in Southeast Asia. The Russians, in turn, reportedly have promised to help the North Vietnamese build a peacetime economy.

Casey and Casey

Dan Flood, the coal country Congressman with the waxed moustache, got word of a minor crisis in his district the other day while he was presiding over his HEW appropriations subcommittee.

"Get Casey," the annoyed Flood muttered to the staff aide who had brought him the news of the trouble on the home front. Lawrence Casey is Flood's press assistant.

A few moments later, the aide brought a phone to Flood and handed him the receiver. Flood proceeded to bawl out the unfortunate listener in no uncertain terms.

"Don't interrupt me," he snapped angrily at one point. "I've got hearings going on but I can scream if I want to."

There were no further interruptions. But a few moments later, the man Flood had been upbraiding arrived in the hearing. It was Congressman Bob Casey, of Texas, a member of the subcommittee whom Flood's aide had thought the Congressman wanted to talk to.

"You owe me about five minutes of your undivided time," Casey told Flood, "and a Band-Aid for my rear end."

A Hung Jury

From the looks of it this area again can anticipate a rerun of the trial for murder of suspects Charles Culhane and Gerald McGovern sometime during the early fall.

Culhane and McGovern were charged with the killing of a lawman—63-year-old William Fitzgerald—during an alleged escape try on the Thruway last September. What made this trial significant, and focused the eyes of the entire state if not the country on it, was that the pair could have been sentenced to the chair. New York had abolished capital punishment back in 1965, except in the killing of a police officer.

And the trial ended with a hung jury.

After more than four weeks of testimony, costing the taxpayers thousands of dollars, a jury of nine men and three women began its deliberations. However, after less than eight hours of applying themselves to the task at hand, the jury reported to County Judge Raymond J. Mino that they were "hopelessly deadlocked."

Now that must be a track record for brevity in deliberations on so important a case.

Granted the case had some confusing aspects to it; granted the possibility of the ultimate verdict in case of a guilty verdict was awesome, the fact remains that an important and expensive trial such as this deserved better than an abbreviated deliberating session of under eight hours.

In extreme cases, determined jurists have been known to have kept the jury working for days. No one is advocating the extreme, but it does seem that only eight hours was not a reasonable length of time to reach a verdict in this case.

Letters to Editor

Never before does it seem that there's been so much activity in The Freeman's letter-to-the-editor columns—and personally we're all for it.

This space is set aside in The Freeman whenever possible in order that the many divergent points of view among our readers can get exposure and the ideas therein can be passed along to the thousands of other readers. The idea is to make the letters-to-the-editor columns a sort of open forum in print.

And this is where we need your cooperation. Please try to keep those letters as brief as your subject matter will decently allow—and this is the only restriction we attempt to place on them. Whether your letter is for us or agin' us, whether your opinion coincides with ours or not will not prevent your letter from being printed.

However, if a controversial subject tends to drag on over a period of weeks, and turns into a personal vendetta between two writers and their partisans, then it seems that common sense and an appreciation of reader interest would allow us to exercise our editorial prerogatives and let the matter drop.

So if you've got a beef, or a complaint, or an opinion on anything that will interest other readers, get those letters to us.

Small Building Up

The annual review of the Small Business Administration has some very encouraging words for small building contractors throughout the 70's. Now pinched by tight money, the small building contractors will soon experience a dramatic reversal of fortune, the review predicts.

Increased family formations, reflecting a high level of marriages, plus the Congressional goal of 2.6 million housing units a year, are cited by the review as evidence of a home construction boom that is bound to last throughout the 70's.

As a result, the review anticipates 100,000 new firms by 1976, principally among sub-contractors and manufacturers of building parts and materials, mobile homes and components, ornamental iron works, structural clay, tile and plastic products—to name some of the needs which must be met.

What Follows Pullout?

WASHINGTON — While withdrawal of American troops from Cambodia is assured in the next seven days, the big question is what will happen there in the week that remains and afterwards. What will the Communist strategy be?

Already there are intimations from diplomatic sources that the Communists are trying to create chaotic conditions in Cambodia. The plan is supposed to be to force President Nixon to keep our troops in Cambodia beyond the June 30 deadline, with the idea of weakening the administration here and ultimately compelling the United States to accept Communist demands at the peace talks that would come later.

One veteran diplomat in the capital of Cambodia told the United Press International that the Communists want the Americans completely out of Asia and feel that "by discrediting President Nixon they can achieve this goal." They regard Cambodia as a means to that end. The diplomat added that, "if the President is forced to expand the war (in Cambodia), the Communists are certain that a peace party will win the November elections" in America and thus reduce Republican strength.

The Communists are thoroughly familiar with the debate in the American Congress, and they are looking forward to a weakening of the President's position through the elections in November. Between now and next autumn, they hope that a number of large offensives can be begun in South Vietnam which will discourage President Nixon so he will abandon the fight. The military commanders in South Vietnam, however, feel confident they will be able to thwart any offensive. They are, of course, counting on the air power of the United States to interdict supply lines from North Vietnam through Cambodia and Laos, as such actions would be taken to protect the American troops still remaining in South Vietnam.

Certainly some effort to bring the Vietnam War to a critical point after American forces are lower in numbers may be expected. The enemy is interested in selecting the right moment for a big offensive in South Vietnam after American combat strength has been considerably reduced through withdrawals. The crucial question then would be whether the South Vietnamese — with American advisers and air support available to them — will be able to handle it virtually alone at a time when a substantial number of American combat battalions have been pulled out of Vietnam.

The climax is not likely to come in the near future, though some crucial situations may be looked for in and around Cambodia as soon as all American troops are withdrawn from that country and attempts are made by the Communists to begin to rebuild the "sanctuaries" which had protected troops, munitions and supplies.

Despite all the talk of limiting the President's authority to deal with Cambodia after June 30, he still would have the power to bomb the trails over which supplies have been coming in throughout the war, and new routes that may be opened in any of the territory adjacent to South Vietnam could be subject to American attacks. The Nixon policy is that as long as a substantial number of American troops are in Vietnam, air power should be used to attack routes used by the enemy to send supplies or troops into South Vietnam.

The President believes that the South Vietnamese can take over the task in Cambodia and no change would be necessary in the pledge given to remove all American combat units from that country by June 30. He also hopes that the Russians as well as the Red Chinese will not be anxious to continue spending large sums each year to finance the Vietnam War.

If Peking and Moscow do hold back their aid, the belief here is that ultimately a truce will be declared, similar to that in Korea no peace agreement will be reached, but the fighting will come to an end under an armistice. This will give the South Vietnamese at chance to build up their economy and military strength to withstand any effort by North Vietnam to resume its aggression.

Without the support in large measure of Red China or the Soviet Union, North Vietnam would have to settle down to an era of peace, however unwelcome it might be. The Communist governments in both Moscow and Peking would then have more funds available for domestic purposes instead of using them to finance North Vietnam's War.

Hit Advertisers Where It Hurts

Among the pigs in the pasture on TV, weakening America around the clock, now comes infamous Jesse Gray.

TV has made nearly all these infamous men. Surely, TV made famous infamous Rap Brown. And the more destructive and violent such convicted criminals are the more TV seems to push their venomous propaganda into our nation's homes.

Moreover, TV reached out all over the world to do so. Why?

Rabble-rouser Stokely Carmichael, a fugitive, escaped to Red Cuba; Castro passed Carmichael on to Red North Vietnam. Hanoi used Carmichael on a propaganda tour of Africa. As he was leaving Africa, TV reached way out and brought in Carmichael's propaganda from Dar es Salaam. Carmichael's caper: "I'm going back to hell — the United States."

Why did TV reach all the way to Red Algeria and concoct an hour-long "interview" with infamous Eldridge Cleaver? Cleaver's caper: "I don't want America's capitalism to solve its problems. I want to see it fail. Damn the United States."

Both Carmichael's and Cleaver's pitches were taped. The TV moguls saw them beforehand. Do you believe they are so stupid not to know the destructive and inflammatory purposes of this propaganda? But infiltrated TV, true to form, pushed it into our nation's homes nevertheless.

Why did TV reach all the way to London to propagandize British Communist Party Secretary General John Gollan's protest against America's treatment of the Black Panthers and his incitement to riots in our cities?

Infamous Abbie Hoffman's open declaration at the Chicago 7 trial was that "social justice in this savagely oppressed, police-state country is not going to be won in the courts but in the streets." All seven openly agreed that their propaganda problem was to draw TV attention to themselves.

Well, infiltrated CBS handed over to Hoffman a full hour on the Merv Griffin show and then unabashedly pushed equally infamous Jerry Rubin's venomous propaganda into our nation's homes for three days in a single week on the Joseph Benti program.

Jesse Gray on TV stations is about par for the TV course.

Jesse Gray, with the help of TV, self-elevated himself as the former Harlem organizer of the Communist party. The so-called Progressive Labor party is the major Peking-oriented Communist party organization for the United States. It distributes urban guerrilla warfare instruction textbooks, spelling out all methods for bomb-making, kidnapping, and ransom procedures, police-baiting and the installation of total fear in the United States. How can the TV moguls conceivably claim that they do not know that this group is likewise Gray's bailiwick?

Gray is the confessed instigator of the bloody, horrible Harlem 1964-1967 riots. Gray was then on the Federal payroll as a poverty warrior and in that capacity went on to lead two busloads of other tax-burdening militants in a propaganda march on Washington. There they staged a violent demonstration within the chambers of the House of Representatives.

Former Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D. La., then Chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, pointed out that infamous Gray called for urban guerrilla warfare (aren't we getting it?) in our country and that his testimony revealed that North Vietnam is training Americans in urban guerrilla warfare in Castro's Cuba. The commercial sponsors pay big — incredibly big — money to get attention on TV. NBC charges an advertiser $65,000 for a single minute on the nationwide Johnny Carson program. A one-minute commercial on "Laugh-in" costs $63,000. The sponsor's cash is what infiltrated CBS, NBC and ABC live on.

This column can only repeat that the only way to influence CBS, NBC, and ABC or any local station is to hit them in the place it hurts — their pocketbooks.

You are not helpless. The sponsors can and will change the TV picture if (but only if) the sponsors are positively shown that they are building bad will.

Write the sponsors of every program you see that teaches or stimulates destruction, whether it is violence in our streets or against America's institutions or pushes the propaganda of urban guerrillas and other criminals into our nation's homes. Get out your pen, let out a roar, get busy at this — and keep at it.

CLEARING PARK AREA — Adults and youngsters of Mt. Marion Park this week cleared the weeds from an abandoned lot in the development in hopes that a recreation area may develop for the park's children. The Mt. Marion Park subdivision map indicates that the builder, Hendrick Wolters left this tract vacant for recreation purposes. However a search by town officials failed to produce a deed for the lot to the town. The matter is still under study according to George Leombruno, chairman of Saugerties Recreation Commission. Meanwhile parents are making a community effort by clearing the lot to permit the children to play. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Textile Talks Collapse, Trade War Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's efforts to prevent an international trade war by negotiating voluntary import restrictions have been gravely threatened by the collapse of talks with Japan.

Negotiations to voluntarily limit Japanese imports of woolen and man-made fiber textiles into the United States broke down Wednesday, and prospects of agreement with other textile exporters waned proportionately.

The breakdown is expected to be plained about foreign competitors. Donald F. McCullough, president of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, said the collapse of the U.S.-Japan talks "underscores the necessity for legislation." He urged the administration to support legislation limiting textile imports.

Nixon had hoped to persuade some foreign producers to voluntarily restrict imports of certain items. Some minor agreements were reached, but the big textile producers rebuffed the administration.

Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans' announcement that day came a week after Nixon told a nationwide radio-TV audience that he was forming a special commission to monitor wage and price increases.

Mansfield said that was a "welcome initiative" but said Nixon ought to go even further and establish wage and price guidelines.

Meehan Comfortable, Mild Stroke Possible

SUFFERN, N. Y. (UPI)—Rockland County Dist. Atty. Robert Meehan was resting comfortably in the Good Samaritan Hospital here today, suffering from what hospital officials say could have been a mild stroke.

Meehan, who lost heavily to Adam Walinsky in Tuesday's Democratic primary for attorney general, entered the hospital Wednesday in what aides described as "a state of exhaustion."

Hospital officials confirmed there was a "possibility" of a stroke. They said further tests would be conducted.

A spokesman said Meehan had been tired out from a nine-city tour which included Buffalo and New York, followed by last minute campaigning in Maney general, entered the hospital Wednesday in what aides described as "a state of exhaustion."

Admit It, or Not Mansfield: A Recession

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is in a recession whether President Nixon will admit it or not, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has told a nationwide television audience.

He said Wednesday the country is mired in inflation, unemployment and war and "whether the term is used or not, these words spell recession."

"That is today's fact. It is not a political fact. It is an economic fact. Reference to the mistakes of the past cannot paper it over. The rhetoric of a radiant tomorrow does not alter it."

Mansfield's speech was broadcast over radio and television by NBC. ABC gave him time today and CBS has told the Democratic Party it intends to offer free time to out-of-power parties.

Democrats had complained that the President had unfair access to the air waves.

Mansfield's speech Wednesday came a week after Nixon told a nationwide radio-TV audience that he was forming a special commission to monitor wage and price increases.

Mansfield said that was a "welcome initiative" but said Nixon ought to go even further and establish wage and price guidelines.

Ulster Town Officials at HRVC Hearing

TOWN OF ULSTER
Town of Ulster officials will attend a public hearing called by Hudson River Valley Commission for 8 o'clock tonight at Chambers. School on a town proposal to establish a landfill for bulky refuse on town property along Ulster Landing Road. Supervisor Carmine Sabino said town officials will be attending the hearing despite the fact that the town has defied the HRVC order to cease work at the site for 60 days to permit time for a public hearing and additional studies. The town requires the 5.8-acre site near the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge for disposal of bulky refuse such as tree stumps, brush and tires. Town officials contend that the land could be developed if the abandoned gravel pit is filled and covered over in a landfill operation. It was stressed that raw garbage would not be dumped in this landfill.

Time Theft

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — City Manager Morton Abramowitz evidently isn't happy about city employees "stealing time." In a directive to department heads, he ordered a crackdown on long lunch periods, transacting of private business on city time and use of city cars for personal business. Abramowitz said he had received reports indicating that some workers used city cars for grocery shopping.

Educational Programming Study

$10,000 Aid for Paltz Campus School

NEW PALTZ experiment. Using the recording, storage, and analytic capabilities of the computer, the experimenters will attempt to determine if the order in which the exercises are presented makes any difference in the amount learned.

Hick, who directs the Child Study Center and Dr. Jones, in charge of computer services at the Campus School, will be investigating the influence of sequence variations in learning programs on the amount of pupil learning. In their experiment a series of arithmetic drill exercises is presented to middle grade pupils working at a computer terminal in the Campus School. An I.B.M. Model 360 Computer, located in Poughkeepsie, is programmed to present the exercises in different sequences to various pupils in accordance with the plan of the

Dr. Archard, principal of the Campus School, said that expanding enrollments and the changing requirements of the State University system have modified the role of the Campus School to include service as a center for educational research and development. In addition to operating a good school for boys and girls, and serving college students as they begin their professional preparation for teaching, the Campus School is expanding its facilities for experimentation with equipment, programs, and learning theories under controlled conditions. Those learning theories which relate to individually prescribed instruction in particular are receiving widespread attention throughout the educational community, with all manner of communication media being used experimentally. The Federal funds will enable Hick and Dr. Jones to conduct their investigation of learning theories via computer-based instruction and make a significant contribution to the science of education.

Hick, a certified School Psychologist, holds bachelor and masters degrees from Utah State University, majoring in psychology and mathematics. His experience includes writing research efforts to improve the MINUTEMAN missile and also service as a School Psychologist with the Greene County, New York B.O.C.E.S.

Dr. Jones, a New Paltz alumnus and experienced elementary and junior high school mathematics teacher, holds bachelor and masters degrees from Albany State University, and a doctor's degree from Teachers College, Columbia University. Awarded a National Science Foundation grant, he did post-doctoral study in mathematics at the University of Illinois and introduced the University of Illinois Committee on School Mathematics program in the Campus School. He also authored the computer drill programs which are to be used in the experiment.

Dr. Jones and Hick recently published in the Journal of Experimental Education, the results of a computer-based experiment conducted last year with eighth grade Campus School pupils.

Murder Charges Lodged Against Woman and Son

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An 82-year-old partially crippled white woman and her son have been jailed without bond after being arraigned on murder charges in the shooting death of a Negro boy.

The slaying Sunday touched off sporadic firebombings and brick-throwing in the city's Manchester section.

Edna Cook Stone — a slight, stooped woman who walks with a cane — and Don Stone, 58, were arraigned late Wednesday before an Allegheny County deputy coroner and lodged in the county jail.

Ernest Caldwell, 12, was shot in the head as he played near Mrs. Stone's house. The house had been a frequent target of vandals, police said.

Police said they found only Mrs. Stone in her house after the shooting. Later, there were reports that a car with Ohio plates was seen leaving the area immediately following the shooting.

The chiefs were lined up beside a jeep in which they were riding in Tarlac province and shot, police said.

Wedding Announcements Are Made

MRS. ERROL RANDOLPH NADLER (Lakeside Studio)

MRS. THOMAS J. ZINNANTI (Reynolds Photo)

Temple Emanuel, Kingston, was the setting of the wedding of Miss Estelle Raye Epstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Epstein, Phoenicia, and Errol Randolph Nadler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Nadler, Brooklyn, on Sunday, June 14.

Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn officiated at the double ring ceremony. Dr. John Parks provided traditional wedding selections. The canopy was decorated with garlands of multi-colored daisies, baby's breath and fern. The dais baskets were filled with rainbow colored gladioli, chrysanthemums and majestic daisies.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore a gown of satin organza of A-line styling. Re-embroidered Alencon lace edged the Renaissance neckline and trimmed the cuffs of the full Bishop sleeves. The same lace created a mock bolero effect on the bodice. Two tiers of cathedral illusion veiling edged in matching Alencon lace served as her headpiece and she carried a cascade of daisies and yellow roses.

Mrs. Edward Gordon, Buffalo, served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore a yellow Empire, A-line gown with a redingote effect and outlined with a Schiffli embroidered motif. The gown was styled with short puffed sleeves. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a fireside basket of multi-colored daisies and Talisman roses with multi-colored ribbons.

Attendants were Miss Deborah Vickers, cousin of the bride, Riverdale; Mrs. Thomas Seem, Elmira; and Miss Karen VanDeusen, Hempstead, L. I. Given in marriage by her uncle, Vincent A. Ferraro of Glasco, the bride wore a gown of silk organza styled with an Empire bodice. Her three tier silk illusion veil was held by a stylized headpiece of pearls in a leaf design. She carried a cascade of white carnations and daisies.

Mrs. Gail Foltner of Ohio was matron of honor for her sister in an orchid gown. The empire waistline was accented with embroidered motifs and a stylized headpiece of flowers and pearls held four tiers of veiling. She carried a bouquet of orchid daisies.

Attendants were JoAnn Hester, sister of the bride, Alabama; Veronica Ferraro, cousin of the bride, Glasco; and Cathy Hinchey, Fish Creek. Their yellow, pink and turquoise gowns were identical in styling to that of the honor attendant's and they carried bouquets of matching flowers.

'Neighbors' Set for Friday By Artists Association

Carl and Ginny Esser will be at the Woodstock Artists Association Friday, June 26. Mr. Esser is the author-composer of "Neighbors: An East River Anthology," a rock theatre, multi-media musical masque whose members just completed a successful en-agement at the Smithsonian's Natural History Museum.

"Neighbors" is similar to "Spoon River Anthology," by E. J. Masters. Carl Esser was inspired to write "Neighbors" while acting in a national tour of the Masters classic, a set of poems in which the speakers are the dead in a cemetery in a town called Spoon River. They come back to tell their life stories. The dead in

"Neighbors" are all residents of New York City.

Mrs. Esser photographed all the slides and handles the projection work.

Woodstock is fortunate that Carl and Ginny Esser are taking time out of a busy schedule to give a sampling of their enormous talents. The performance will begin at 8:30 p.m. Tickets at the door.

Miss Karen Dawn Van Aken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Van Aken, Ireland Corners, New Paltz, was graduated from Mt. Vernon Hospital, School of Nursing, Mt. Vernon, N.Y. on June 4.

She was presented with an award for "demonstrating outstanding interest, concern and support for the school during her three years of attendance." Miss Van Aken also received Honorable Mention for "contributing the most to the Class of 1970."

Miss Van Aken will be starting her nursing career at the Kingston Hospital. She was a 1967 graduate of New Paltz Central School.

Junior Volunteers Are Graduated

The second class of American Red Cross Junior Volunteers was graduated from Northern Dutchess Hospital, Monday, June 8, Mrs. John Baker, Director of Volunteers, has announced.

Twelve teen-aged girls completed six two-hour classes under the direction of June Ransford, a member of the hospital's adult volunteer group, and started their duties Monday, June 22.

Mrs. Ransford said that the volunteers will spend most of their time with patient-oriented services: bed making, supplying fresh ice water, feeding, mail delivery and perhaps, most importantly, will take the time to talk, to listen and to be concerned.

In the class are Carol Dodds, Marie Mangiamale, Denise Merriken, Donna Hood, Susan Riordan, Carol Salacka, Bonnie Odell, Patricia O'Sullivan, Darlene Ritchie, Sandra Martin, Suzan Maher and Anna Mulla.

Smokey's friends don't play with matches.

Concert Date Set

The organ concert originally scheduled June 7 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, 22 Livingston Street, has been slated for June 28 at 4 p.m. The previous concert had to be postponed due to the illness of the guest artist, Kirby Koriath.

Fashion Show Teamed With Modern Dance

A modern dance fashion show, the first such event to take place at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, will be held during intermissions of "Fiddler on the Roof," tonight, Friday and Saturday in the Hall of Springs.

The fully-choreographed show will feature the fashions of Ursula of Switzerland, a well-known New York City area designer who has established boutiques in both Schenectady and Saratoga. Seven students from SPAC's School of Modern Dance along with the school's administrator, Mrs. Sally Sears Mack, will do the modeling, while Ellen Scott, women's editor of the Albany Times-Union, will serve as moderator.

The choreography for the show has been done by Carole Lombard of Loudonville who will also be a model. The founder of Miss Carole's Academy of Dance, Miss Marshall, this year used the proceeds from the Academy's spring recital to provide full or part scholarships for a number of her students to the School of Modern Dance. She and her students have also engaged in a number of fund-raising activities to benefit the school in the past.

All of the models were participants in the first School of Modern Dance summer program in 1969 and are returning this summer. Apart from Mrs. Mack and Miss Marshall, they are: Gwen Buccli and Meredith Mack, both of Schenectady; Ann Costigan and Dale Demarest, Latham; Joan Griessel of Loudonville and Michele Paparian of Watervliet.

The "Fiddler on the Roof" production, mounted by Broadway's Harold Prince and starring Bob Carroll, will begin at 8:30 p.m. all three evenings. Tickets may be obtained at the main box office, Route 50, in Saratoga Springs or any Ticketron outlet.

Herring, Gypsy Moth Chores

Committee Goes Down the River

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The Assembly Conservation Committee was headed down the Hudson River today to check the recent herring die-off and crop damage by the gypsy moth in Orange and Rockland counties.

Assembly committees convened at the Capitol for the first day of Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea's June "mini-session" Wednesday. The helicopter trip down the Hudson is just one of the chores committees hope to accomplish in the meeting, held between formal sessions of the legislature.

An announcement from the insurance committee indicated efforts were being made to compromise Governor Rockefeller's once-dead "no fault" auto insurance plan. And, a leading sponsor of abortion repeal said there were no immediate legislative revisions in the works.

Assemblywoman Constance E. Cook, R-Ithaca, said no immediate legislative changes are under consideration for the

Still Liberated Woman, Says Reigning Sex Queen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Woman's Liberation probably never expected as an ally the one woman who made the uplifted bosom as familiar a part of American scenery as trees. But Mae West, at 77 still a reigning sex queen, is very definitely the liberated woman.

"Liberation was always in the back of my mind," Mae said in an interview Wednesday. "When I was 14 years I resented men having all the freedom of sex and from then on I thought women should have it too."

"I've never put a woman down," she said. "In all my pictures I've kept the woman up. That's why I have so many women fans."

Miss West dressed in a pink jacket and white bell-bottom pants, looked at least thirty years younger than she is. Her face, pink and smoothed with stage makeup, was unlined as she flashed the famous "come up and see me some time" grin.

While she spoke, the president of her international fan club, Craig Eadie, 24, of Toronto, sketched her with pencil strokes.

"She's just marvelous," said Eadie, a slim young man attired in an all white Edwardian summer suit who arrived in New York a few days ago to attend the premiere of "Myra Beckenridge."

Miss West has some sharp words for foreign films.

Five Drug Firms To Pay $82.5 Million

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal court judge Wednesday approved an agreement by five major drug firms to pay $82.5 million to 43 states and other claimants as settlement for alleged price fixing of certain "miracle drugs."

U.S. District Court Judge Inzer B. Wyatt, in his decision, said he did not think the seven states and several other claimants who did not accept earlier settlements would gain any more money in later trials.

Arguments were slated today on part of the original settlement offer—$32.5 million to a group of health insurance operations and private hospitals.

The original case involved such broad spectrum antibiotics as tetracycline and aureomycin produced by the companies.

The government charged the firms overcharged for the drugs. Convictions have been thrown out but settlements have proceeded anyway.

The settlement approved Wednesday—the largest in anti-trust history—came two months after the U.S. Second Circuit Court of Appeals reversed 1967 convictions of three of the defendants—Chas. Pfizer & Co., Bristol Myers Co. and American Cyanamid Co. Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and Upjohn Co., the other companies involved in the alleged conspiracy, went ahead with their original offers.

The circuit court reversed the convictions on the grounds that most of the evidence in the original trial came from the defendants themselves.

The court ruled the judge in the criminal case, which began in 1961, misled the jurors.

Judge Wyatt, in approving the settlement, said he could find no direct evidence of conspiracy or price-fixing. He said, "Such evidence as there is must come almost entirely from the defendants themselves."

The government charged Pfizer and American Cyanamid formed a conspiracy to fix tetracycline prices in 1953 and that Bristol-Myers joined it in 1955. Olin Mathieson and Upjohn were named as co-conspirators, but not defendants.

The settlement offer was revealed in February, 1969. Several claimants believe they can do better in suits. Wyatt, in Wednesday's ruling, said, "The

Revision of Abortion Code Proposed by AMA Group

CHICAGO (UPI) — A revision of the American Medical Association's code of ethics which would free physicians to perform abortions in states where the operation is legal has been recommended by an AMA Reference Committee.

The proposal, sent to the AMA's policy-making House of Delegates Wednesday, modified an AMA Board of Trustees recommendation that the decision to terminate pregnancy be left solely to a doctor and his patient.

AMA policy forbids doctors to perform abortions except for therapeutic reasons, despite liberalization of abortion laws in a few states.

The 244-member house today considers the proposal, one of

CLEARWATER IN FULL SAIL FOR KINGSTON POINT

Cleaning Up the River— On the Musical Vein

By JEAN F. DOLAN

KINGSTON
Sail Ho! The Clearwater is on its way to Kingston this weekend.

The Hudson River Sloop Restoration project of cleaning up the mighty river which flows by our doors will be outlined in song as the sailing vessel puts into port at Kingston Point. The ship is expected to arrive Friday afternoon with festival performances covering a wide range of musical tastes slated for Saturday and Sunday.

Folk Music, Philharmonic

Folk music will be featured in afternoon presentations Saturday and Sunday. Local performers under the direction of Sonia Malkine of Woodstock present programs. Clearwater performers who will take part are Pete Seeger, noted folk singer who piloted the Sloop Restoration project and Jim Collier, brilliant young star who is traveling with the Clearwater through a grant from the New York State Council of the Arts. The council of the arts is responsible also for an innovation in this year's program—the evening performance of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic. The Philharmonic program will be given Saturday starting 7:30 p.m. The spectacular Philharmonic Showmobile is expected to add to the occasion with technical and amplification equipment.

William Taggart, Clearwater development director, envisioned the Saturday night concert as restoration of Kingston Points old glories when the site was the summer social highpoint. He said he hoped many more Kingston area residents would attend the concert in the picturesque setting.

When the Philharmonic made its first Clearwater Concert appearance earlier in June at Cold Spring, it received rave reviews and great audience response from young and old alike.

The combination of folk and longhair idiom in tandem at concerts along the Hudson thus far this season has met with great success which is expected to continue in weekend performances at Kingston Point.

Among performers slated for Saturday and Sunday afternoons are Don McLean, Billy Faier, Happy Traum, Drew Murray, Billy Batson, Roger Tillison, Frank and Fiona Fletcher, Johnny Harald and Sonia Malkine. Groups appearing will be the Elbow Red Street Band and the Woodchuck Hollow Brass and Woodwind Choir. Mrs. Malkine said that the list of performers is incomplete at this time but many other favorite folk are expected to take part.

The Clearwater is anchoring at Kingston Point this year so that more visitors can see the proud craft under sail while enjoying the beach setting. Last year, the sloop docked at the foot of Broadway on the Ron-dout Creek. Due to the creek approach it was necessary to arrive motorized rather than under sail.

Taggart commended the co-bany with a stop at Catskill. operation of Andrew J. Murphy III, Kingston City Recreation director who worked out details in port.

The Clearwater sails the Hudson this year with Capt. James Ostergard at its helm. On leave from famed Woods Hole Institute, Me., he is dedicated to the anti-pollution message carried by the Clearwater. The crew is made up of dedicated parttime sailors from all walks of life, shipping over for one-week cruises.

Another innovation this year is the baby sloop which will accompany the Clearwater to Kingston. The smaller boat, owned by Henry Miller of New York City, is accompanying the larger craft on its mission of ecology. In addition to the concerts, exhibits and booths are planned. The Arts and crafts will be displayed. The Clearwater is in Hyde Park today and will depart for Kingston Point, the Hudson River Sloop will head for Al-return visits to the Mid Hudson III, Kingston City Recreation valley ports are scheduled for Poughkeepsie Aug. 1 and 2, Hudson Aug. 8 and 9 and Rhine-cliff Aug. 13. Highlights of the summer season will include the First Annual Sail up the Hudson River July 20 to 24 and the Fifth Annual Hudson Valley folk picnic and festival at a site to be announced.

County Fair Plans Nearing Completion

NEW PALTZ
Plans for the Ulster County Fair, to be held Aug. 14, 15 and 16 at the County Farm, New Paltz, are in the final stages.

This year's fair promises to be even bigger and better than last year's.

Feature attractions include a Pony Pulling Contest, sponsored by the Accord Pony Club, Friday, Aug. 14 at 7 p.m. Those who enjoy music and dancing will be happy to hear that there will be square dancing Saturday evening, Aug. 15.

Sunday, Aug. 16, at 2:30 p.m., the Sing Out Saugerties group, a segment of the internationally-famous Up With People organization, will be at the fair with a musical program.

There will be the annual fair activities and sights, including various 4-H demonstrations, the Horse Show, exhibits of all types, kiddie rides and food booths.

Those interested in exhibiting at the fair may contact Cora Herzberg, fair secretary, RD 1, Box 192, Milton, 12547 for class lists and entry fees.

Further details and a complete schedule of events will be announced.

Wawarsing Mothers Plan March

By JON POWERS

NAPANOCH
A "Mother's March" of angry Napanoch citizens will invade the Wawarsing Town Hall Monday, June 29, unless Town of Wawarsing officials vote to rescind an earlier decision to establish a landfill site on Route 55, west of this southern Ulster hamlet.

This was the word received by The Freeman Wednesday from Mrs. E. F. Messinger, co-chairman of the committee of Napanoch residents who are opposed to the proposed dumping site.

Since the Town Board voted two weeks ago to take out an option on a 90-to-100-acre tract of land along the Rondout Creek for landfill purposes, a group of 25 Napanoch residents have been waging a war of words and letters against town officials.

According to Mrs. Messinger, the petition calling for withdrawal of the option has "many" signatures and more are expected before the end of the month.

Mrs. Messinger also stated that town officials were "bombed" by phone calls and letters over the weekend from irate citizens who oppose placement of the dump in a residentially classified area.

The Wawarsing Town Board is expected to meet this week, in a special session, and if it is decided to rescind the option then the march will be called off, according to Mrs. Messinger. But she added, if no action is taken before the weekend, then the "mothers," along with a full complement of Napanoch Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, will parade right up to the steps of the Town Hall and present their demands.

The Town Board was originally scheduled to discuss the matter at its next regular meeting on Thursday, July 2. Should no action be taken before that date, said Mrs. Messinger, Napanoch residents will attend the meeting in force to voice their complaints. She added that two school buses have been hired to transport residents to the Town Hall on that night.

Committee members opposing the landfill site claim that the dump will lie in a "scenic and historical valley surrounded by an area residential in nature."

Mrs. Messinger told The Freeman that the proposed landfill site is bordered by a trail park on one side and the Rondout Creek on the other side. She added that, directly across the creek from the proposed site, is a Baptist Day Camp for New York City orphans. "They will be exposed to the same conditions," said Mrs. Messinger, "that they have been brought up here to get away from."

Residents are also concerned about the "smoke and pollution" they fear will smother the area as a result of fires at the site. They contend that the "delicate balance of ecology" will be destroyed "for generations to come."

Also on their list of complaints is the fact that the property will cost an estimated $40,000 which is well above normal property prices in that area, according to the committee members.

When the option on the tract of land was first taken out several weeks ago, Town of Wawarsing officials were enthusiastic about the move. Supervisor Frank W. Harkin said at the meeting, "This is the answer to the town's problems." Harkin additionally noted that the land is on a main traffic artery, with few people to annoy and in an area that will be highly developed in years to come.

It was also mentioned that the site would be an ideal location for a future town barn.

Town Engineer Aaron Horowitz was directed to survey the land to determine its exact acreage. The acreage is approximately 93 acres.

The original motion to take out the landfill was made by Councilman DeLoise Craft, who said that he had worked on the property acquisition for more than a year and that it had a potential landfill usage time of 25 to 30 years. The motion to take out the $1,000 option was approved unanimously.

On hand to greet the Catskill Region TB and Lung Association sponsored vehicle were (L-R) Kingston Chief of Police, Francis Fagan; Mrs. Ethel Geuss, RN, Kingston Hospital, a member of the committee; Miss Marianne Geuss, volunteer; T. No Worries in Dutchess Over P-C Reorganization

By TIM SHUSTEP

RHINEBECK
While town and village officials in Northern Dutchess County were not happy with the prospective loss of revenue in the event of Penn Central's reorganization, none contacted painted a black picture.

The communities affected here are the Towns of Red Hook and Rhinebeck and the Village of Tivoli.

Tivoli Mayor Mortimer Appel said that some checking had already been done at the Dutchess County Courthouse into the exemption of railroads as real property, and it was possible the federal government could subsidize the village.

Tivoli has been hard-hit the past two years by the state-mandated continued lowering of the assessment ceiling on the Penn Central property in the village.

The railroad's property in Tivoli was assessed almost $17,000 less than last year, and

Napanoch Voters Defeat Referendum

NAPANOCH
Napanoch voters Tuesday night defeated a referendum for the establishment of a water and sewer district in this community north of Ellenville. The vote count totaled 82 in favor of the water district and 127 opposed and 94 in favor of the sewer district and 118 opposed.

The initial date for the referendum was set on May 28 by the Wawarsing Town Board. An earlier petition with specific monetary figures was termed obsolete because of increased estimates of construction costs.

The initial petition established the sewer and water district three years ago.

Residents voted Tuesday on present estimates of $539,000 for the sewer system and $462,000 for the water system, as compared with earlier estimates of $450,810 for the sewer system and $304,100 for the water system.

Prior to the establishment of the referendum, it was stipulated that no construction on the project would begin unless at least half of the cost would be provided by state and federal agencies.

July 4 in Wisconsin...Annual Circus Parade

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's claim to the unofficial title "Mother of Circuses" might be open to contention—but there is little dispute that Milwaukee's annual Fourth of July circus parade is the "grand daddy" of such events.

An estimated 90 circuses were born in Wisconsin, but none of them, marching their way down the dusty main streets of America's cities decades ago, could delight as many persons in a single afternoon as does the Milwaukee parade.

It is historically authentic to

This Village A Good Place For Relaxing

SHAKERTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Pleasant Hill is a good place to relax, get away from it all and experience the tranquility of rural life 150 years ago.

A stroll along gas-lit paths to the tune of crickets rubbing their wings in the summer evening brings back images of the Shakers, the original inhabitants of the somber village.

But the only Shakers in town now are those on the lavishly-filled tables in the inn, which hosts some 50,000 tourists each year.

Because sex was considered sinful by the Shakers, there were no marriages and the colony bore no children. The group was kept alive only through converts, and in 1925 the last member died, leaving the village to decay.

But in the early 1960s, some history-minded Kentuckians organized a nonprofit firm called Shakertown at Pleasant Hill, Inc., and began restoring the colony. The U.S. Area Redevelopment Agency approved a $2-million loan for the work and the state Highway Department re-routed U.S. 68 around the town.

The plain folk who built Pleasant Hill in the early 1800s, however, wouldn't believe all the frills and modern innovations that have been added to their homes to make them more comfortable for tourists.

Air conditioning and central heating were installed, and the community has its own sewage treatment plant. Most of the 54 guest rooms are equipped with sprinklers in the ceilings in case of fire, an adjoining bath room and inner-spring mattresses—a far cry from the simple existence of the past when men and women slept on hard beds in separate quarters.

The village lies atop a gently-sloping plateau that overlooks the limestone palisades of the Kentucky River, 22 miles southwest of Lexington and seven miles east of Harrodsburg.

Of 40 original buildings, 25 remain with 14 fully restored. They house a museum, weaving shop, cabinetmaker's shop, the inn, reception center and gift shop.

Restoration continues. Guest rooms, scattered throughout the village, are furnished basically in traditional Shaker gray. The floors are covered with handwoven rugs and the windows hung with handwoven curtains.

The Shakers called themselves the United Society of Believers in Christ's Second Appearing. Outsiders labeled them "Shakers" because of their writhing and contortions in their dances during evangelistic meetings. The group originated in England as an offshoot of the Quakers, a more intellectual sect.

Like all Shaker colonies created as the religion moved west from New England, Pleasant Hill was self-sufficient.

The rich farmlands of the Bluegrass area soon made the community prosperous. It gained a reputation for fine craftsmanship, and eventually the colony developed a wide market for its brooms, looms, shoes, bonnets, canned vegetables and farm equipment.

The colony at one time led the state in scientific farming. New strains of sheep, hogs and cattle were propagated and the ingenious Shakers devised and tested a number of new agricultural implements and labor-saving gadgets.

With the blossoming of the industrial age after the Civil War, the Shaker markets declined as the demand for high quality but expensive craftsmanship lessened. By 1910, there remained but a dozen members of the once-flourishing Pleasant Hill Community.

Food was something in which the otherwise austere Shakers took relish. Perhaps the high point of any visit to the community is breakfast in the inn, which offers an enormously varied buffet. Indian griddle cakes and Shaker sweetbreads are just the beginning. The fare is served by young waitresses wearing Shaker-type dresses resembling maxi-coats, and the prices are reasonable.

Overnight reservations are advisable, especially in April or October—the thoroughbred racing season, and the times of the year when the surrounding hills are at their loveliest.

the last detail, with its flashy, animal-bearing circus wagons making even the "circus train" and its magnificent teams of matched draft horses. But it is longer, and bigger, and louder than any one circus' show-opener could be.

Some 65 genuine circus wagons, supplied by the Circus World Museum at Baraboo will be brought by rail the 120 miles to Milwaukee. The circus wagons and acts bringing to one million the estimated number of persons in Lake Michigan for several days volved.

Until last year, the train was six-day "Old Milwaukee Days" Among the most striking features this year will be a few newly-restored English circus wagons that have never before been seen on this side of the Atlantic.

The weather-beaten remains of seven wagons will have been rebuilt and refurbished in time for the parade, according to museum director C. P. Fox.

"These marvelous English wagons are going to be some of the most beautiful and exciting we have ever shown," said Fox.

who also predicted that the July 4 parade and then will give lakefront show will be "the greatest ever."

"Old Milwaukee Days" begins June 30, with the arrival of the circus train. The celebration will end July 5.

Highlighting the week-long festival, along with the parade, will be two performances on July 5 of the Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

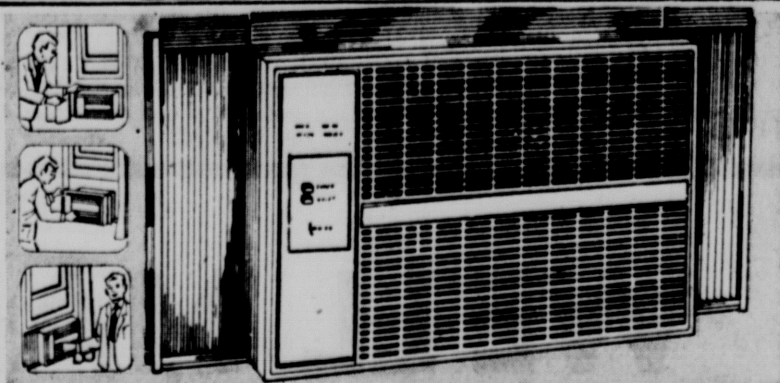

The "Greatest Show on Earth" will take part in the they would make the special trip to Milwaukee July 4 and 5 as a special favor to Wisconsin, which has been so long and so closely connected with the American circus."

And, once again, the rumble of wagon wheels and clomping of hooves on the pavement and the music of calliope will induce delighted squeals from children and, perhaps, nostalgic tear from oldsters, as the circus comes to town.

Miracle or Blase, Mets Take First Place

By United Press International
Last year's miracle team is this year's blase team.

"There's no emotional charge for this club being in first place," manager Gil Hodges calmly said Wednesday after the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs, 9-5 and 6-1, to take a half-game lead in the National League's East Division.

Last year it took the Mets until Sept. 10 to overhaul the Cubs and move into first place for the first time. They then became one of the most fabled teams in history by going all the way and winning the World Series.

Of course, the one important point that everyone had trouble believing because they had the word "Mets" on their shirts is that they were really a good team. It was difficult to take them seriously.

This season—even though they're being taken seriously and have been stumbling part of the time—they're in first place on June 24th. The club has only one .300 hitter (Art Shamsky at .321) this year and their second best pitcher, Jerry Koosman, has had arm trouble and has won only two games. But they've swept four games from the Cubs and will try to make it a rare five-game series sweep today when they send Koosman against the Cubs.

"The fact is that we're playing real good baseball and the Cubs aren't," Hodges said. He also said this year's Met team is better "in every department"—a claim he's been making all year—than last year's club.

Tom Seaver pitched a seven-hitter—surviving a three-run pinch homer by Ernie Banks in the ninth—to boost his record to 11-5 in the opener. In the second game, Nolan Ryan had a one-hitter for seven innings before developing a blister. Tug McGraw finished up the final two innings and allowed one hit to complete a two-hitter.

The Cubs, meanwhile, seem to be collapsing again this year in three with a two-run double (problems) to decide the game. They've blown a 4-1-2 game lead in the last week and have lost six straight games.

Cleon Jones drove in four runs in the opener with two singles and Tommie Agee drove in three with a bases-loaded walk. In the other games, Pittsburgh's Wayne Garrett also homered, bunched St. Louis 4-3 in the second game, the Mets 11 in the second game, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 5-4, Montreal blanked Philadelphia 8-0, Los Angeles beat the Braves 7-0 and Houston beat the Astros 5-4.

Pinson was ejected from the game in the fifth inning after decking Yankee pitcher Stan Bahnsen with a picture-perfect left hook to the jaw. The incident occurred when Pinson tried to score from second base on a wild pitch. Bahnsen covered the plate, took the throw from catcher Thurmon Munson and applied the tag in what Pinson obviously considered a not too gentle a manner as he tried to score standing up. Bahnsen then threw the ball to the ground, hitting Pinson on the foot and that's when the Cleveland outfielder showed his boxing prowess.

Murcer's final homer in the eighth inning tied the score 4-4 after Graig Nettles had given Cleveland a 4-3 lead with a two-run blast in the top of the inning. Danny Cater then singled home Roy White, who had doubled, with the winning run.

The split enabled the Yanks to pick up a half game on first place Baltimore in the American League's East Division and move to within 2½ games of the Orioles as the Birds lost to Boston, 6-5. In other AL contests, Minnesota nipped Milwaukee, 3-2, California swept two from Chicago, 3-1 and 2-1, Oakland beat Kansas City, 5-1, and Detroit nipped Washington, 3-2, in 10 innings.

The judges awarded victory to Rebel Winnie, the 4-1 morning pick. Mighty Annette was awarded second place and Car Value was third.

Rebel Winnie had to weave a path through the pack to come from behind at the top of the stretch. The clock was stopped at 2:09 3/5.

The winner returned $6.20 and the victory was worth top share of $800.

Stylish Season won the $1,400 featured trot in the seventh race in 2:06.4.

The winner paid $4, $3.40 and $2.60. Lone Shark was second and Windy Lightning third.

Monticello's daily double for the night consisted of Sampson's Special in the first and Babbe Byrd in the second for a 3-5 combination that paid $14.40.

A crowd of 3,625 bet $273,974.

Vanaro at Saratoga

The New York harness spotlight was on Saratoga Springs again Wednesday as Vanaro captured the featured eighth race, a Grand Circuit $14,000 trot for a 3-year-old filly.

Vanaro took the lead at the quarter pole and ran away in the stretch to a 4 1/2-length margin. Bills Smoke and Luscious Newport finished second and third.

The winner was timed in 2:03 3/5 and returned $9.

Rainbow at Roosevelt

Peppy Rainbow set the pace for most of the mile in Roosevelt Raceway's featured $5,250 pace, but it was Highland Raider that had the stuff in the last sixteenth as he pulled ahead for a three-quarter length margin at the wire. The time was 2:03 3/5 and the 10-year-old winner paid $12.60. Fly Boy Duane was third.

Maravich Out

Pistor Pete Maravich will not appear at Monticello Raceway as scheduled this weekend, track officials announced this morning. Commitments to the military reserve preclude Maravich's appearance.

Field goal kickers Jan Stenerud and Pete Gogolak will stage their place kicking contest as scheduled Friday. Raceway officials said.

Hoad Defeat Stirs Rhubarb on Calls

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Lew Hoad, 35-year-old Australian veteran, had tennis stars and officials arguing today over whether "let" service calls should be abolished.

Hoad lost a five-setter to Ismael El Shafei of the United Arab Republic in the second round of the All-England Championships Wednesday.

The Australian complained bitterly that at least a half-dozen of El Shafei's winning services touched the net and the net judge let them go by.

Hoad accused the Egyptian of accepting the points when he knew that his service had touched the net.

The row provided ammunition for the British Tennis Umpire's Association, which recently passed a resolution urging that "let" services be scrapped altogether.

South African umpires also want to abolish them.

Bertie Bowron, one of Europe's best known umpires who lives in France but comes over to help at Wimbledon, said:

"Why not abolish them? After all, if a service touches the net it usually slows the ball down and gives the receiver an advantage."

"If the server fails to clear the net, why give him another go? It would save a lot of argument if lets were done away with."

El Shafei, 22, who earlier this year scored two victories over Rod Laver on indoor wooden courts, defeated Hoad 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 4-6, 6-1.

It was the second day running that arguments over let services had disturbed the Wimbledon peace.

On Tuesday Peter Curtis of Britain staged a scene during his first-round victory over Jim Osborne of Honolulu. The Briton claimed he was being wrongly called on let services.

In that match there was no net judge and the umpire made the calls.

Wednesday's play, curtailed by rain, produced no upset results.

Most of the remaining second-round matches in the men's singles were completed.

Victors included Marty Riesen of Evanston, Ill., Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, Tom Gorma of Seattle, Charlie Pasarell of San Francisco, P.R. Gordon, Kane Lead Jaycees

WOODSTOCK — Howie Gordon of Phoenicia, a member of the Onteora High School varsity golf team, fired a one-under-par 69 to lead the District Jaycees qualifying tournament Wednesday at Woodstock Country Club.

A southpaw swinger, Gordon toured his home layout in nines of 34 and 35, carding three birdies to lead runnerup and OCS teammate, Vlad Hoyt, by three strokes.

Paul Kane of Red Hook Golf Club led the Junior (16 and under) division with a 40-75. Second place went to John DeForest, the Mighty Mite from Catskill Country Club who survived a three-way sudden death playoff against Mark Brown of Wiltwyck and Steve Benham of Saugerties after the trio had tied at 79. A clutch 7-foot par putt won for him.

Gordon, who has played under the shadow of his more publicized teammates at OCS, combined long, accurate drives with pinpoint pitch shots to dominate the field of 41 entries.

He canned a 2-footer for a birdie-3 on the No. 3 hole and bagged a 6-footer on No. 8 to make the turn in 34. His only bogey of the round, came on the par-three 4th hole where he missed the green. Gordon then reeled off eight pars and his second birdie on No. 8 from 5 feet.

Gordon finished seven strokes ahead of tournament favorite and teammate, John "Buoy" master, who posted a pair of 38s for 76 after starting both nines 5-7.

Doug Tatara of Kingston matched or broke par, with 18

High and Terry Allred of Wiltwyck shared a tie for third place at 74, in the Senior group with identical nines of 37-37. Richard Swithers of Kingston was alone at 36-39-75.

Scotty Dean (41-36) of Woodstock and Don Treat (40-37) of Saugerties were tied with 77s. In the sudden death playoff

Indiana Grabs First Round Lead in NCAA Golf Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The University of Indiana grabbed the first round lead in the NCAA golf championships here, but the ominous shadow of defending champion Houston hangs over the Hoosiers.

Don Padgett with a five-under-par 67, best score of the day, and Wayne McDonald, with a 70 led the Hoosiers Wednesday to their five stroke margin over the Cougars and the University of Georgia.

Padgett, the son of a club pro, birdied eight holes and had three bogies in his 33-34 round over the 7,100-yard par 72 Ohio State University Scarlet Course.

The 1969 Big Ten champion as a sophomore, Padgett said the best round he had ever had on the OSU course prior to Wednesday was a 72.

"The course played easy today," Padgett said. "But they can make it so nobody could shoot 67."

Altogether, 31 of the 240 golfers who teed off either Wednesday or broke par, with 18 coming in under regulation figures.

Steve Foulston of Wichita State, Tommy Valentine of Georgia, and Bill Schumaker of Miami of Ohio were the only others who managed to break 70, with three under 69s.

The 70 shooters, besides McDonald, were Randy Erskine of Michigan, who bogeyed the last hole, freshman Dan O'Neill of Penn State, Lanny Wadkins of Wake Forest, Mike Panicia of Fresno State and Tom Kite of Texas.

crucial point. Brown's second shot landed in the right hand trap. He exploded well but was still 15 feet from the pin and then missed his bid for the equalizer.

Seth Meyer of Wiltwyck had 39-42-81 in the Juniors and Bill Van Aken Jr. of Wiltwyck and Mike Rich of Saugerties tied with 86s.

Kingston Sport Club's

Old Timers Set Debut

MORGAN HILL Kingston Sport Club has arranged an attractive soccer tripleheader highlighted by the first appearance of the newly organized Old Timers, Sunday at Oehler's Mountain Lodge Soccer Stadium.

The Old Timers will debut against the Hanseaten Club of New York, while the varsity and reserves play against Kolping of the German-American Soccer Association at 2 and 4 p.m., respectively. Old Timers start at 12 noon.

No less than 10 of the original Kickers will be playing with the Old Timers. Ingo Froehlich will be tending goal. Other vets who return to the scene of former glories include Alex Dirks, right wing; Tibor Horvath, inside right; Hans Wolf, center forward; Heinz Ulf, inside left; and Al DiBella, left wing. It's the complete, original forward line that made headlines 10 years ago.

The halfback line with Gus Horn, George Vizzary and Oskar Benzenhofer is a dandy, as are the fullbacks, Alex Bruckner and Heinz Pfaff.

Crack Substitutes
Other players that will be substituted include Bill Savskie, Walter Ackerman, Karl Schultz and Walter Grassmeier, all outstanding soccer players who joined the Kickers in their later years.

Although retired from competion, most of the players have stayed in top physical condition in various sports. Horvath, the Kickers' original trainer, Bruckner and Horn, for example, play soccer regularly in the IBM League.

Vizvary is soccer coach at Ulster County Community College and also an outstanding tennis player. Oskar Benzenhofer, who coaches the KSC reserves, is still active as a player. Many others join the Kickers in the weekly practice sessions every Wednesday.

By far the oldest player is Heinz Ulf, who at 49, is most amazing of all. His stamina and skill in the old days overpowered younger players with astonishing ease.

To Meet Volkswagen

Old Timers are again scheduled July 19 in the preliminary game against powerful Volkswagen of America. The first team plays New York Hota under the Oehler lights. Another game is scheduled Labor Day weekend against a team from Kitchener, Ontario in Canada.

Two former Hartwick College stars under Coach Al Miller—Larry Martelli and John Gibsen—will make their debut as Kickers against Kolping.

Kolping of New York is the only club in GASA that Kingston has not played. The teams played in different divisions of the GASA and their paths never crossed. The Kolping squad is a strong contender in the Premier Division and will be one of the Kickers' future foes in that bracket.

Mel Williams poked a grand slam home run to pace Boyle's A.C. win over Johnnie's Shell, 12-8. Williams got help, as pitcher Frank Ries and Champ Holstein added home runs. Jim Amato and Vince Peck hit homers for Johnnie's.

Joe Clausi belted two homers and Pete Esposito hit one round tripper to lead Esposito's to a 14-5 win over the Mailmen. Ken Hopper had a solo homer for the Post Office.

Rocky Directs State Probe Of 'Tommy the Traveler'

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The when the agent accompanied authorities on a campus raid. The governor directed Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz to name a special prosecutor to supersede Ontario County District Attorney Willard C. Best, and convene a special grand jury in the case.

The action was requested, Rockefeller said, by Best, and by Geneva Mayor Michael J. Simeone, and Dr. Robert E. Doonan, chairman of the board of trustees of Hobart and William Smith Colleges.

The governor said the state intervention would help "clear the air" in the dispute between the college, police and community.

The controversy stems from a June 5 incident in which several hundred students blocked two police cars for about four hours after police made a drug raid, arresting two youths on drug counts and three others for harassment.

The arrested students were released to bring an end to the confrontation.

In a post-confrontation series of accusations, five persons have been arraigned in court on charges of second degree riot, harassment or obstructing governmental administration. One of those facing charges is Tommy, whose real name is M.L. Singkata Thomas Tongyai. Tommy is accused of harassing another student several months ago.

Formation of Water District Approved by Rifton Homeowners

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN RIFTON

A unanimous unofficial vote of approval by representatives of about 30 families involved favored the formation of a water district for the Rifton Area.

The vote was asked by Town of Esopus Supervisor George H. Freer at an informational meeting Wednesday night at Rifton Firehouse. The next step is the preparation of a petition which must bear the names of homeowners embracing 51 percent of the assessed valuation of the proposed water district, the supervisor said.

Town Attorney Louis Klein will prepare the petition which will be circulated by volunteers. Representatives from the Mill Road area which includes about 12 homes gave notice that they were interested in the project and would like to be included in the water district. These families will also be petitioned. When completed, both petitions will be filed with the Town Board, and Consulting Engineers Brinnier and Larios will figure the expected tax rate and total costs as soon as the total assessed valuation is determined. The petitions will be circulated in a few days.

When completed, both petitions will be filed with the Town Board, and Consulting Engineers Brinnier and Larios will figure the expected tax rate and total costs as soon as the total assessed valuation is determined. The petitions will be circulated in a few days.

Supervisor Freer explained the entire proposal before the project was approved by a show of hands. The supervisor advised those in attendance that signing the petitions does not bind the signer to the project and that the petition can be withdrawn by consent at any time.

When the preliminary water district draft is completed it will be filed with the Federal Housing Authority with an application for a $41,000 grant toward the expected cost of about $82,000.

The proposed water district as originally outlined would embrace an area including Maple and Pine Streets and a portion of the Post Road in Rifton. The Mill Road residents, if they approve, would be added to the project.

In the meantime, residents of the area involved will be boiling and hauling water for home use wherever wells are contaminated by septic tank runoff and unpure surface water.

In other business, the Town Board discussed the landfill project proposed for West Park. The town attorney was authorized to advertise for bids for the necessary equipment needed for operation of the landfill. He will also advertise for the construction of a metal building to house the equipment at the site.

Specification will be drawn up for the hiring of a custodian-machine operator. Three applications are already on file and application blanks for the job are available at the town clerk's office. Supervisor Freer said the appointee would also be named a town constable to permit enforcement of a landfill ordinance which must be adopted by the Town Board at an early date.

Trestle Ties Burn, Blaze Under Probe

KINGSTON

A fire of suspicious origin that burned ties on the Penn-Central Railroad trestle above Abeel Street shortly after 6:20 p.m. Wednesday, apparently caused a brush fire and a small blaze on the roof of a house.

Firemen were dispatched to the area at 6:21 p.m. and found wooden ties burning on the trestle. The blaze was quelled with Indian tanks. At 6:53 p.m., a bell alarm summoned firemen in charge of Deputy Chief Robert Maines to Abeel Street where they extinguished a brush fire.

While checking the area firefighters discovered some shingles burning on the roof of the home of Raymond Tator under the trestle. The fire was quickly quelled. Fire officials asked police to investigate the trestle blaze. They said the brush and roof fires apparently were caused by sparks that dropped from the trestle.

City GOP Will Support Entire Slate

KINGSTON

The Republican City Committee met at the county office building Wednesday night to discuss the upcoming campaign after the Democratic primaries on Tuesday.

Melvin Mones, party chairman, told The Freeman today that the committee would support Republican candidates "down the line." I'm aware that some Republicans do not support Senator Charles Goodell because he sometimes opposes the administration in Washington. However, Sen. Goodell is our candidate and we will support him. Failure to support him could adversely affect other Republican candidates. We want a united front.

Mones also announced that the party will hold its annual picnic in August. A committee will be named next week to set up a time and place for the picnic.

Parole Chairman Scores McCormack

NEW YORK (AP) — The chairman of the state's parole board says he scored the office of House Speaker John McCormack for asking him for the release of a prisoner involved with a reputed Mafia.

Russell G. Oswald testified Wednesday at the federal court trial of Dr. Martin Sweig, suspended chief administrative aide to McCormack.

Sweig and lawyer-lobbyist Nathan Voloshen were accused of using the prestige of the Speaker's office to defraud the government of lying to a federal grand jury about their dealings.

Voloshen has pleaded guilty to both counts.

Oswald said Sweig telephoned him on Nov. 15, 1968, and said he was calling at McCormack's request to say that two Massachusetts congressmen had told the Speaker that Emanuel Bello, a prisoner at Clinton prison, had heart trouble and could get better care on the outside.

Bello was jailed for having tried to dispose of $100,000 in stolen securities, according to evidence introduced at the trial.

Oswald said he told Sweig that Bello was "closely involved" with Raymond Patriarca, who has been identified as the New England head of the Mafia, and suggested that the speaker "divorce himself completely from any interest in this case because I would hate to see an illustrious career ruined."

Earlier in the day, several witnesses testified that McCormack's name was used in an attempt to get an army discharge for a man whose father-in-law had paid Voloshen $1,500 to prevent his induction.

Among the evidence introduced was a letter from Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., requesting the discharge of Gary Roth of Lawrence, N.Y.

A spokesman for Javits said he "did get involved in this routine constituent hardship case at the request of the Association of the Deaf and Gallaudet College for the time that the speaker's office was also involved."

Roth was released as a hardship case three months after his induction in 1968 on the ground that his deaf-mute brother-in-law, a business partner, could not carry on without him.

Dear Abby

Does Not Give Love!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to FED UP, the man with the wife who "has done her duty," and won't let him near her unless it's Christmas or his birthday. I had this pushed in my face last night, so I'm giving you my opinion as to why this husband and so many others get turned down so much.

I am tired of being told that making love to my husband is my "duty." Anyone knows that a woman is putty in the hands of a man who really loves her—no matter how long they've been married. If my husband would show me any recognizable form of love during the day time I would respond with pleasure at night. But when all I hear from him during the day is criticism, all I feel for him is disgust at night.

His first "loves" are money, his business, and sports. He doesn't even show any love for our children, whom my father would be proud of. You hit the nail on the head, Abby, when you said, "A normal wife gives because she WANTS to," and she will want to if she feels needed and wanted and loved for herself—not just physically. My husband says he shows his "love" for us by supporting us. They say God loves a cheerful giver. Well, so does a wife.

A WOMAN
DEAR WOMAN: I can tell you (from my mail) that many husbands need to be told what you've put in this letter. And I say, "Suck it to 'em!" Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: It is the custom on Father's day for our church to present the oldest father and the youngest father with a prize. Also, the father who has the most children gets one.

It so happens that the boy I am going with is 20 years old and he has a child by an unmarried girl. This is a small town and there aren't any secrets here, but do you think it was nice of him to stand up in church and accept the prize for being the youngest father? I was so embarrassed I wanted to die.

I still love him, but this really hurts me. Do you think I should tell him how I feel or should I let it go? HURT
DEAR HURT: Tell him how you feel. It may not penetrate, but it will probably make YOU feel better.

DEAR ABBY: I have had quite a bit of pain in my arm and shoulder due to either rheumatism or arthritis. I don't really know which. (One doctor says one thing, and another says something else.) Well, I have a friend who gave me a copper bracelet, and told me if I wore it faithfully for a few weeks, my aches and pains would go away. She swears up and down that she got rid of hers that way.

Well, after wearing it for two weeks I honestly believe I don't have as much pain as I did. I told my husband and he laughed at me. I'm afraid to mention this to my doctors because I know they will tell me I am crazy and am imagining things.

Will you please ask some of your medical consultants if this condition of mine, which is not MENTAL, can be improved by wearing a copper bracelet?

DEAR FEELING BETTER
DEAR FEELING: I have asked several medical consultants and they agree that there is no scientific basis for it, but they, too, have had patients "swear up and down" that the copper bracelet "helped." It may not "help" but it can't hurt!

horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You may be resentful today and tonight unless you make a special effort to avoid thinking others are taking advantage of you. You must also realize that your work load is no more than most everyone else's. Put as much time and attention on the artistic and the cultural as possible.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Instead of fussing because there is some dull work to do, get at it and you will find you can easily clear the slate for the future with better things. Help those who are having trouble. Show generosity.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try not to burden your friends with troubles you may be having, since they have plenty of their own. Handle personal matters first. These will take quite some time. Be happy tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle business affairs early. Show others you are a respected citizen. They may give assistance when needed most. Show more enthusiasm toward your own career.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find the best way to bring new and fascinating interests into your life. Look into various modes of life, schools of philosophy, etc. Be more educated, well-informed.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keep the promises you have made to others. They may be dull and uninteresting, but have to be gotten out of the way. Get into those cultural things you like and which you have committed yourself. Be happy in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show associates that you are conscientious so that they will deepen the relationship instead of trying to sever connections. If any trouble arises, you can handle it well. Be quick.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day to get busy at whatever work will make your home more charming and life easier for you. Improve your health, also. See to it that wardrobe is improved.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your desire for a good time is all right, but don't rely on friends who are too busy at this time to accompany you. A good movie would be ideal. Get those hobbies going. Pay your bills.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't start an argument at home or you will be unable to have the harmony there that you wish to establish. Eliminate causes of friction. Handle that business matter wisely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get rid of inadequacies at home or other vital places where you work daily. Be tactful in answering telephone calls, etc. Don't say something you'll regret later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Finances are to your mind, so be sure to think wisely and improve your position appreciably at this time. A business expert gives ideas that should be followed. Be happy with congenials tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are not feeling up to par and want to get out of some personal obligation, but this would not be wise. The right treatment will perk you up quickly. Then you will see things differently.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who require much affection from kin and from others in order that spiritual and artistic qualities can mature nicely. Finest success comes in professions that require both idealism and practicality. Give religious training very early in life so that your progeny will have a happy disposition. College is good here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TRAILER: (Q.) My girl friend is always hanging around me. This really turns me off. How can I still be her friend and get her to quit following me around?

I've tried being truthful with her, but she's still right behind me all the time—haunted in Bridgeport, Conn.

(A.) Every girl who reads your letter should learn a lesson from it. Boys like to be pursued, but they don't like for the pursuit to be obvious. When a girl trails around after a boy it is obvious. And she is likely to lose him.

If he's honest and frank won't work, you'll have to be cool, too. Don't mistreat her or be rude to her, but be very clear about your feelings.

If she keeps on following you around in the face of the cool treatment, you may have to replace her with a girl who is not so obvious.

THE OTHER BOY: (Q.) When I get married I'll probably fall in love with an usher at my wedding. What I mean is that when I'm out with one boy I almost see or think of another boy who would be better.

Like yesterday, I skated all afternoon with one boy. But I kept thinking that another boy who was there would have been more fun.

I hate to put one boy down for another, but I'm always doing it. Is there any solution for me?—Boy Switcher in Colorado.

(A.) It is sensible to have dates with a number of boys. By doing so, you learn about the differences and the sameness in boys, and you progress toward the choice of a permanent one.

But it is asking for trouble to be with one boy and to show too much interest in another one. By doing that, you can lose both.

Go with different boys. Try them out. But try to quit "flitting" from one to the other. And when you finally pick one for a husband, be extra, extra sure he's the right one—at last.

Another Reign Is Ending

NEW YORK (AP) — After a year of travel and work, $20,000 richer and five pounds thinner, Gloria Diaz is preparing to turn in her tiara. Gloria's year as "Miss Universe" will be over on July 11 when a new girl will receive the crown.

"Miss America," "Miss U.S.A.," and "Miss Universe," the big three among the televised beauty pageants, provide financial rewards for the winners and spectacular moments on cameras, watched by people in between 15-million and 20-million homes each year.

Gloria, a dark-eyed brunette who wears lightly her official stamp as 1969's most beautiful girl in the universe, reached the Miami finals last July after winning the "Miss Philippines" preliminary. One of the 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Jaime Diaz, Gloria says she went into the original contest during a vacation from college when "I had nothing much to do and it seemed like fun."

She has had plenty to do during the past 12 months. She has traveled to South America, Australia, many areas of the United States and Canada representing companies that sponsored last season's pageant. She has learned to cope gracefully with autograph hunters, discourage elderly—over 25—wolves, and keep in shape one basic makeup job including eyelashes, with occasional patching, for 18 or more hours of personal appearances.

Surprisingly few winners of the pageants go on to important careers in show business. Among past Miss Americas, Bess Myerson Grant, who won her title before the pageant was televised, was a television program panelist and then became New York City's commissioner for consumer affairs. Lee Ann Merriweather is a featured performer in television, and Marilyn Van Derbur also keeps busy in television. And that is about the list.

Among the Miss Universe winners, the top career girl is Corinna Tsopei of Greece, who won in 1964 and currently is featured in a film, "A Man Called Horse."

Many former Miss Universes have married well. Christiane Martel of France, Miss Universe of 1953, is the wife of Miguel Aleman Jr., son of a former president of Mexico. Miss Thailand of 1965—Aspasara Hongsakula—won the title and later married a cousin of Thailand's Queen Sirikit. Sweden's Hellewi Rombin, Miss Universe of 1955, married D. David Shine, head of a real estate empire, and Miss Universe of 1959, Akiko Kojima, married Japanese film star Akira Takirada.

Congress Warned of Rail Takeover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Transportation Secretary John Volpe has told Congress the government might be forced to nationalize the country's railroads if federal aid is withheld from the Penn Central and other lines.

"If we do nothing, and all else fails, we only have the option of takeover of the railroads by the federal government," Volpe said Wednesday while testifying in support of a proposal to provide $750 million in emergency aid for the railroads.

He told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee the bankrupt Penn Central was badly managed and any government aid would be made at high risk. But chances of the firm, the nation's sixth largest corporation, recovering without federal help is a gamble at best, he said.

In Chicago, meanwhile, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy told the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations the government should have made a "desperate" effort to save the railroad. But he said insufficient time was available to solve the firm's problems. He said other companies might face similar problems because "corporations operate with less cash than they used to."

Committee response to the proposal was reluctant and sometimes angry.

Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., questioned the aid package on grounds it could set a precedent that would force the federal government to put financial "life nets" under other transportation industries.

Undersecretary Charles Baker said the airline and trucking industries were not in the same trouble as the railroads, but "the government does have the responsibility to see they remain operating."

Volpe said the Penn Central probably would receive the first $200 million of the administration's $750 million standby loan proposal.

The cash-stricken carrier would need that sum to stay in business for the remainder of the year, he said. The railroad reorganized under bankruptcy laws over the weekend after an original administration plan to guarantee a $200 million loan to the firm collapsed under adverse congressional reaction.

Penn Central's management came under strong criticism. One committee member asked if $140,000 retirement pay for one board member was not excessive.

"Yes," Volpe said.

Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., asked whether management acted wisely last year in its decision to pay $43 million in dividends in the face of a financial crisis.

"No," said Volpe's deputy, James Beggs.

Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., asked whether the Penn Central was poorly managed.

"Anytime," Volpe said, "a corporation loses money I generally think it is poorly managed."

COINCIDENTAL — Several hundred employees of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare held an anti-war meeting in an auditorium of the HEW complex Wednesday, shortly after the swearing in of Elliot L. Richardson, as new secretary, in a White House ceremony. A spokesman said it was "coincidental" that the meeting was held on the same day Richardson took over. Here, the protesters, carrying an American flag, march from HEW headquarters to Lafayette Square, across from the White House, "to take our concerns directly to the Administration." (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Troubled HEW Gets Richardson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson has officially transferred his diplomatic skills to the troubled Department of Health, Education and Welfare where he faces immediate, knotty problems.

The former undersecretary of state, was sworn in as the No. 1 man at HEW Wednesday and was immediately faced with problems endemic to HEW—civil rights and consumer protection, among others.

HEW civil rights officials, for example, have readied a letter for the secretary's signature calling on southern districts to end in-school discrimination as well as segregation this fall.

Officials of the Food and Drug Administration will urge Richardson to modify a controversial department decision to allow cyclamate-sweetened foods to remain on grocery shelves despite possible health hazards.

The American Medical Association, a powerful interest group with which all HEW secretaries must wrestle, voiced displeasure this week over recent FDA actions on oral contraceptives and certain medications for diabetes.

The AMA is expected to insist that Richardson rescind the FDA requirement of packaged inserts warning women about possible hazards associated with birth control pills.

Organized medicine is also expected to protest what doctors see as their exclusion from crucial decisions on drug effectiveness and safety.

Richardson has so far brought only one new staff aid and two secretaries to HEW.

He must decide whom to keep from the team assembled by Robert H. Finch, his predecessor and now a White House counselor.

Department insiders expect few important job changes soon except, perhaps, for James Farmer.

Farmer, an assistant secretary and a one-time head of the Congress of Racial Equality, has publicly accused President Nixon of failing to understand and deal effectively with problems facing black Americans.

Nixons Fly West... Work and Relaxation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon and his wife, Pat, flew to the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., today for a week of work and relaxation, with a speechmaking stopover in St. Louis.

Nixon was to address the Junior Chamber of Commerce in St. Louis' Kiel Auditorium on the "U.S. Today and the U.S. in the Future."

The President also planned to meet with a group of editors and publishers after his arrival in San Clemente today.

The First Lady will leave San Clemente Sunday on a flying trip to Peru to personally deliver a plenipotentiary of supplies for earthquake victims.

The trip was arranged at the President's request to dramatize the nation's concern for the suffering survivors.

Mrs. Nixon is expected to return to San Clemente in midweek.

Before the departure for Peru, the President, Mrs. Nixon and their daughter Tricia will attend a family wedding Saturday in Newport Beach, Calif.

The bride is Nixon's niece, Lawrence Mae Nixon, 26, the daughter of the President's elder brother, Donald, vice president of the Marriott Corp. She will marry Thomas Elmer Anfinson, 28, a certified public accountant and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anfinson of Southgate, Calif.

The couple will be married at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church in a morning ceremony.

Demos Put Veto Eye On Hospital Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, figuring to be the winners even if they lose, moved today to override President Nixon's veto of a $1.25 billion hospital construction bill.

They went into today's vote not particularly confident of picking up the two-thirds majority to overcome the presidential rejection of the measure, but feeling relatively assured of making political hay regardless.

The Democrats felt they couldn't be hurt politically by voting for hospital construction at a time when Nixon is asking Congress to make available $750 million for loans to hard-pressed railroads.

Furthermore, many GOP members say they still are criticized back home for sustaining the President's veto of a big health and education monies bill last January.

With congressional elections less than five months away, candidates don't want to provide their opposition any additional campaign fodder.

Republicans took no solid position on the veto at a party conference Wednesday. Some said they would vote to uphold the President with the understanding a new bill would be passed to meet major White House objections.

The bill didn't register a single vote of opposition when it passed the House and the Senate originally and again when it cleared both branches in compromise form.

A House override sends the measure to the Senate where another two-thirds majority is required.

But the President objected, particularly to a requirement that funds provided to implement the bill must be spent and not withheld.
